

App. No. 09/730,165

In the Claims:

1-16 (cancelled)

17. (new) A role playing strategy computer program comprising:
a multi-user game where a player plays as a role playing character where a plurality of players can play, where said game is run on a computer where said players are connected to said game through a connection to the Internet where each player has a game account and said game account is funded with money, said game account storing a history of events, game play tactics, win record and transactions where said game account can be used to purchase additional items.

18. (new) A game according to claim 17 further comprising where said game account can be used to purchase special skills.

19. (new) A game according to claim 17 further comprising where said game account can be used to purchase additional lives.

20. (new) A game according to claim 17 further comprising where a player receives currency from his defeated opponent's game account.

21. (new) A game according to claim 2 further comprising where said game verifies a player's age by asking said player.